Death of Three Oid Volks and Quite a Young Man

Mr. John Lintner; died Saturday night at his home, No. 70 Allen street, aged stxty-five years. Funeral at 10 a m. sday, from the German Catholic church.

Mrs. E lzabeth Hadley, aged aighty-two years, died Sunday avoning, at the home of her son, Mr. John Hadley, No. 23 Liberty street. Funeral Tuesday at 1,p. m., from the residence.

Robert R. Jackson, seventeen year old son of Mr. Richard Jackson, Iving at No. 289 South High street, died Sunday morning of bone cancer in the back. The remains were taken to Wooster. Ohio, for interment.

The funeral of the late Isaac Schla bach took place Sunday afternoon. A singular coincidence is that his brother Jacob Schlabach, living near New Ber lin, died about the same time as the for mer Friday night, and was buried at the same hour Sunday.

Gottlieb Schauwecker died suddenly of paralysis Saturday afternoon, after a long ailing, aged seventy three year-ten months and eleven days. Funeral Tuesday at 1 p. m. from his late resi-dence on East Tuscarawas street; ser vices at the German Reformed church.

KEEPING CHRISTMAS.

Canton Business Houses Will Close o That Day.

In compliance with a time-honored custom, besides being a legal holiday the Business Men's Association have or-dered that all places of business shall be closed and business suspended on Saturday, December 25, (Christmas) 1886 By order of association.

A Blooming Fraud.

The Canton Repository frees its mind about the politics of the Review. We are supremely indifferent to the opinion of the Repository. That paper has no politics except as it can make money out of them. It can never understand how any one can place principle first and party second, because it don't know what principle is. It does place money first, however, and the minute it could see more cash elsewhere it would cease to be Republican. The Repository is a blooming fraud.—[Alliance Review.

What we are driving at is shoddy, unreliable goods, small worth clothing at small prices. Wool costs more, of course it does; it wears stronger, longer, better; it's worth putting good work on; it's lower in price, for these qualities make it so.

Rate the cost of clothing by the days and months it wears you, and how well.

The cost of reliable clothing, all wool and strongly made--even if half as much again as s poor quality that wears only half as long is less in the end--long and true service are the elements of cheap clothing.
